

Dr. Chase Scarbrough Dermatology & Mohs Micrographic Surgery

About Dr. Scarbrough

Dr. Scarbrough is a board-certified dermatologist and fellowship-trained Mohs reconstructive surgeon. He graduated from the University of Toledo with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing; then completed medical school at Ohio University College of Osteopathic Medicine. Dr. Scarbrough completed his dermatology residency at Ohio University/Ohio Health. Most recently, he completed a fellowship at The Ohio State University in Mohs micrographic surgery and cutaneous oncology. During his fellowship, he trained under several excellent Mohs surgeons, completing thousands of varied and complex cases.

After fellowship, Dr. Scarbrough returned to Blanchard Valley Medical Associates, where he practices with his two dermatology partners, as well as with thirteen other multi-specialty physicians. His Mohs surgery practice includes a CLIA-certified laboratory, and highly-trained and compassionate support staff. He is a dedicated surgeon who takes great pride in his meticulous work, providing the best dermatologic surgery care. Dr. Scarbrough's clinical interests include high risk skin cancer patients, cutaneous squamous cell carcinoma and nail surgery.
